Your duty of disclosure

Consumers:

You must take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation to the insurer. This means that all the answers you give and statements you make as part of your insurance application, including at renewal and when an amendment to your policy is required, should be honest and accurate. If you deliberately or carelessly misinform the insurers, this could mean that part of or all of a claim may not be paid.

Commercial customers:

If the insurance is arranged wholly or mainly for purposes related to your trade, business or profession you have a duty to disclose all material facts whether or not the insurer asks for specific information. This duty applies throughout the life of your policy, and when you renew your insurance. Material facts are any facts which may influence the insurer's decision to accept the policy and/or what terms are applied. Failure to disclose a material fact may invalidate your insurance and could mean that part or all of a claim may not be paid.

How to cancel

You may have a statutory right to cancel a policy you take out through us within a short period. Please refer to your policy summary or your policy document for further details. We consider taxis to be Commercial business and as a result no statutory right to cancel (cooling off period) applies. If you cancel within the statutory cancellation period (where this applies) you will receive a pro rata refund of premium from the insurer. Insurers are also entitled to make an administrative charge. In addition, we may keep an amount which reflects the administrative costs of arranging and cancelling the policy. Details of these amounts are given in our Fees and Charges below.

If you wish to cancel outside of the statutory cancellation period (where this applies) you may not receive a pro rata refund of premium. In addition, we may also keep an amount that reflects the administrative costs of arranging and cancelling the policy (see our scale of charges below). If your policy is cancelled you are required to surrender the certificate of motor insurance. If you have lost the certificate of motor insurance you must complete a lost certificate declaration. This can be found on our website under <http://www.acorninsure.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/2011/08/Lost-Certificate-Declaration.pdf>

Short Term Policy Cancellations

In the event of cancellation of any policy which is issued for a period of less than 12 months, there will be no return of premium due from the insurer. This does not affect your statutory rights.
